Idea! Make your own book!

Alice made a book, and so can you. Do you want to sail the high seas with your stuffed animals? Travel to the top of Mount Everest in a pair of shorts? Or maybe go sledding with your friends on the pyramids in Egypt? Get your creative juices flowing!

Supplies Needed:

(3) Sheets of paper
Stapler and a grown-up to help
Markers, crayons, or colored pencils

Directions:

Stack the sheets of paper on top of each other so all the edges match up.
Fold the sheets in half (hamburger fold).
Have a grown-up help staple lengthwise along the fold.
Decorate the cover of your new book.

The stories that your book can hold are limitless. Don't be afraid to write about something completely crazy. Just be sure that you don't write on the walls of your home!

Dive in, have fun, and most importantly, BE CREATIVE!

Be a King!

Decorate your crown with anything you like. Then, with the help of a grown-up, carefully cut out the crown below and glue or staple the ends together. This will allow you to be a king whenever you want!

Tip: Be sure to make photocopies before cutting if you would like to make more than one crown.

Supplies Needed:

Construction paper or card stock (thicker paper makes sturdier crowns!)

Stapler/glue

Markers, crayons, colored pencils, feathers, pom poms, glitter—get creative!

Scissors, and a grown-up to help

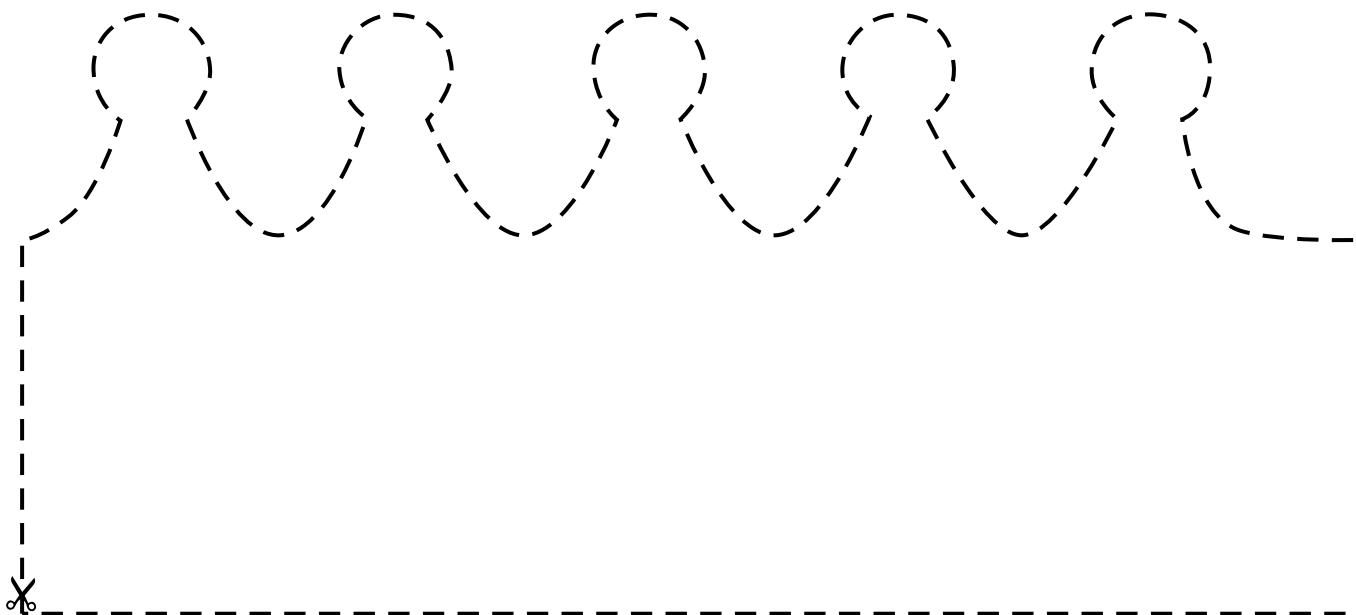

Directions:

With the help of a grown-up, cut out the crown template below along the dotted lines. Trace both parts of the template onto a piece of card stock or construction paper—you will need two halves of the crown to fit it around your head.

Have a grown-up help cut out the crown.

Decorate your crown!

Have a grown up help staple or glue the two parts of the crown together so they form a circle, and go rule your kingdom.
